Approves Atomic Program

Will Exchange Data On Nuclear Weapons With NATO Nations; They Must Okay It

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today approved a proposed international agreement on exchange of atomic weapons information among the 14 North Atlantic Treaty nations.

The agreement, still to be formally signed by the NATO nations, provides for exchange of data dealing with:

1. Development of defense plans.

2. Training of personnel in the use of and defense against atomic weapons.

3. Evaluation of the capabilities of potential enemies in the use of atomic weapons.

Congressional approval of the proposed agreement is not required, but the President wrote Sen. Anderson (D-N.M.), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, notifying him of the terms of the proposal.

Eisenhower told Anderson that the North Atlantic Council on March 2 "strongly endorsed the proposed agreement."

He added:

"It is my firm conviction that the proposed agreement will enable the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, consistent with the security and defense of the United States, to evolve more effective defense plans concerning the use of atomic weapons than have heretofore been achieved."

The President advised Anderson that he is naming George W. Perkins, U.S. permanent representative to the North Atlantic Council, to sign the agreement on behalf of the United States.

It will become effective only after it has been signed also by the United Kingdom, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, Greece, Iceland, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Portugal and Turkey.

Benton County Elects Members Of School Board

The county board of education of Benton County, met at the office of the county superintendent, John Owen, for its election of board members. Harold Price was re-elected to serve a three-year term, from the Alexander township. A. J. Shaffer was elected from Cole township to replace Raymond Harris. He will serve a three-year term. Other members of the board are Dan Witte, Tom Township; Ralph Berry, White township; Arlie Goetz, Williams township; Ross Allen, Union township. The board will have an organizational meeting at the office of the county superintendent on Friday evening.

R-3 school board, Benton County, had its organizational meeting on Wednesday with Herb Cooper elected president; Dr. David Glen, vice-president; Norval Woirhaye, treasurer; and Carl Hoepfner, secretary. These terms expire June 30. The board voted to thank all who helped secure a favorable vote on the levy.

British to Investigate Cause of Plane Crash

HONG KONG (AP)—Hong Kong's government ordered a full police investigation today into the crash of an Indian airliner chartered by Red China. But the British colonial authorities said the possibility that the plane was sabotaged here—as Peiping radio charged—was "extremely remote."

U.S. officials in Washington and Hong Kong dismissed the Communist charges as "ridiculous" and "utter nonsense." The plane's owners, Air India International, confirmed that mechanical trouble had delayed its departure from Bombay for Hong Kong for several hours.

We Pass

How can anybody make a weather comment when the sun is shining and the clouds look ready to dump buckets of water at any minute? You be the weatherman today. We will sit this one out.

Partly cloudy and cooler to-night, low in upper 40s. Thursday generally fair with high in 50s.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 53, 65 at 1 p.m., and 66 at 2 p.m. Rainfall .22 inch.

The temperature one year ago today, high 72, low 46; two years ago, high 60, low 34; and three years ago, high 46, low 36, with .37 inch of moisture.

Their Car Turns Over Three Times—Two Suspects Held After Fast Car Chase

A 90- to 100-mile-an-hour chase from Cole Camp to about 8½ miles south of Sedalia on Highway 65 resulted in two Marshall men being apprehended and being held in Benton County for investigation about two robberies early Wednesday morning. The 1941 Mercury sedan in which the two were riding was demolished when it went out of control and turned end over end three times on the east side of the highway.

The men identified themselves as William Lee Nichols, 25, and his brother, Raymond "Richard" Nichols, 24, both of Marshall. Sheriff White said Lee Nichols told him he had served terms in the Board Raises Teachers' Pay $540 Yearly

Age of Retirement Lowered; Consider Purchase of Bus

The Sedalia board of education meeting with Superintendent of Schools Heber U. Hunt, worked on the school budget for 1955-56, revised the list of teachers, and considered the purchase of a new school bus and lowering of the retirement age of teachers Tuesday night at the superintendent's office until after midnight.

The proposed budget, for $851,032.70 in expenditures, as submitted by Dr. Hunt, is based on a total valuation of $22,000,000 and a tax rate of $2.45 on $100 valuation.

The budget estimates a balance of $189,000 on July 1, 1955; total receipts during the next school year of $859,000; making a total of $1,048,000. After expenditures, it will leave a balance of $207,967.30 on July 1, 1956. This budget was generally approved.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. May Ritchie, reading teacher at Broadway; Miss Anna Elliott, third grade teacher at Jefferson; Mrs. Nancie Lee Linn, first grade at Horace Mann; Mrs. Margaret Small, fourth grade at Mark Twain; and Mrs. Macy Moore, speech correctionist.

The board officially approved the tentative salary increases for teachers, principals and custodians suggested before the last election putting them into effect for the coming contract period. The increases are straight across the board without differentiation, with principals and teachers and the school nurse getting a $540 raise, and the secretaries and custodians receiving a $240 increase.

Mrs. Eugene Miller, Mrs. Anna Berger, Mrs. Eugene Herrick and Mrs. Forrest Yoder were appointed to take the annual school enumeration between April 30 and May 15.

Supt. Hunt explained, "Until the local bus company ceased to operate, we employed the city bus for our regular school runs from the school bus out of town. Since that time, we have not been able to send our bus out of town unless the trip could be made after the regular run. We feel that the purchase of an additional bus is almost a must."

He proposed that the board keep the old bus and use the new one for highway transportation. The board moved to consider bids and proposals.

Board President William F. Brown appointed Harry Brougher, V. A. Siegel and Ed Kehde to suggest building repairs and improvements to be made during the next summer.

A. L. Wilson was approved as an elementary teacher after receiving a leave of absence during the current year to work for a master's degree which he will receive in July.

William Burlingame was approved as mathematics teacher at Smith-Cotton. He taught there from 1950 to 1952 resigning to accept a position with Mid-Continent Oil Co. He will also serve as a treasurer or gatekeeper.

Robert Cummings was approved as an additional music teacher at Smith-Cotton and in the elementary schools beginning July 1. He formerly taught vocal and instrumental music at Mark Twain and Washington Schools before resigning to teach in Clinton. It is not known that Cummings will accept the position.

Russell Gilmore will be transferred from the fifth grade and physical education at Jefferson School to social science and athletics at Smith-Cotton. He will assist in coaching all sports and will be head coach of baseball.

Blaza Hejtmank was approved as a custodian. He previously worked at the Missouri-Pacific shops. He will probably be assigned to Smith-Cotton.

The board voted to lower the retirement age from 70 to 65. This would be in effect at the close of next year. The state law requires retirement at 70 but the individual boards can lower this limit at their discretion.

reformatory at Boonville and at Algoa and a term in the Missouri penitentiary.

V. D. "Walt" Weymuth, owner of the W. K. Garage at Cole Camp, chased the car in his automobile from Cole Camp and was close on the rear of the fleeing automobile when it was wrecked. Night Marshal Boyd Dump of Cole Camp was riding with Weymuth.

"I was at home in bed," Weymuth said, "when Boyd called me and said he thought there had been a break-in at the garage. I got up, got my car and drove down, picked Boyd up and started to drive around to see if we could see any strange cars."

"I saw this car coming down a side street at a fast clip, so I drove on past the intersection, turned around as it went out on Highway 52 and decided to chase it to see who was in the car. We raced 100 miles an hour over the black top," Weymuth said, "and the car nearly turned over as they made the right turn on Highway 65 to head north." Continuing, he reported, "We drove at speeds between 90 and 100 miles an hour, and I decided to close in and try to see his license number. As I neared the car I saw the license had been bent up so it couldn't be read."

"We passed the Windsor junction, and a short distance on, the car seemed to hit a water puddle in the highway. It was raining hard," Weymuth said.

"The car seemed to swerve out of control, then it appeared as if the driver might have gained control when it started suddenly to slide sideways going off the concrete onto the soft shoulder on the east side of the highway. As the car smashed into the embankment, it started going end over end. It went over at least twice and I think it might have been three times. We stopped immediately and before we could get out of our car the two men had freed themselves and started to try to get away."

"One man crossed the fence and the other was in the act of getting over it when I fired my pistol one time," Weymuth told a reporter. He then said, "As I fired (Please turn to page 4, Column 2)"

Missouri House Hits Amendment, Okays Milk Bill

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Missouri House carved off a lethal amendment yesterday and then approved 71-53 a bill to ban the manufacture or sale of filled milk products.

For the weeks the bill's sponsors had been getting their knives ready for the amendment—which they admitted was a killing one. It would have banned the production or sale of filled milk products unless the oil used in place of butterfat came from Missouri crown cotton or soybeans.

Yesterday they were ready for the operation. They got rid of the amendment and stopped the addition of any others.

But the 71 votes they had for advancement still was eight short of the number they will need for final passage when the bill comes up for its last House debate.

The House also refused to take the $12,000 ceiling entirely off the present salary of the chief engineer of the State Highway Commission. Instead, the House insisted some ceiling should be retained.

After an hour's wrangling over where the new top should be set, the House approved an amendment setting it at $12,600. That would give the chief engineer no more than $50 a month additional.

Most of the day was spent in reconsidering bills defeated earlier and at the end of the session more than one member grumbled that the hours of effort had been wasted.

Says Success Extremely Remote—

Tells Supreme Court Finish Of Segregation Destructive

WASHINGTON (AP)—North Carolina told the Supreme Court today that a "forthwith decree" abruptly abolishing segregation in public schools might result in that state's abolishing its public schools system.

I. Beverly Lake, a North Carolina assistant attorney general, said the chance of North Carolina's mixing the races in schools in the near future "is extremely remote."

Lake made the statement in reply to a question by Justice Harlan. Harlan had asked whether the state was going ahead and trying to comply with the court's ruling that segregation is unconstitutional.

Lake said he could not say definitely what steps North Carolina will take but said the state has alternatives, including the closing of the schools.

Wants No Politics In Court

House Refuses To Recommend Change In 15-Year-Old Plan By a Vote of 45-77

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Missouri House refused today to recommend any change be made in the state's 15-year-old nonpartisan court plan.

The vote was 45-77, thus defeating the plan.

The proposal was in the form of a constitutional amendment and would have needed passage by both houses and by the voters before it could become effective.

If enacted, it would have made substantial changes in the nonpartisan court plan, including:

Reduction of appellate court judges' terms from 12 to 6 years.

A requirement that they run against a "live" opponent every six years instead of against their own record only as they do now.

In the elections candidates would run without party label to retain some degree of nonpolitical nature of the Missouri court plan.

Rep. William Harrison Norton (D) of Clay County, a lawyer and the author of the plan, said the nonpartisan system has failed to prevent politics from creeping in to the appellate courts. For that reason, he said, those portions of the system should be scrapped and the people should be allowed to vote on a new plan.

For a little bit it looked like the legislature was going to lift its guns off the courts and train them on Gov. Phil M. Donnelly.

For 19 months he has refused to appoint judges to three vacancies on the circuit court of Jackson County on grounds the panels submitted to him were "political."

Today, Rep. A. Clifford Jones (R) of St. Louis County offered a substitute to Norton's plan which, Jones said, would solve that dilemma.

Under his proposal, the governor would have just 30 days to make appointments of judges after he received the panel of nominees from the judicial commission. At the end of that time, if he had failed to act, the appointive power would be transferred to the lieutenant governor.

The House argued that proposal for an hour before Rep. Luna Butler (D) got the House to block further debate. Then it rejected the Jones proposal 56-73.

The Norton plan was debated another hour.

Schedules Two Tours Of Pastures April 21; Northwest, Southwest

Two different pasture tours have been scheduled for Thursday, April 21. The morning one will be in the northwest corner of the county and the afternoon one will be to the southwest corner near Windsor. William (Bill) Murphy, extension specialist in field crops from the University of Missouri, will be on both tours. Orchard grass, fescue and alfalfa pastures will be seen.

The morning tour will start at Gris Raines' at 9 o'clock, will include a stop at John Short's and will end at Tom Ream's at about 10:30. Orchard grass will be seen at the first stop, fescue at the second and fields of both grasses plus a field of alfalfa that has provided a lot of pasture at Ream's.

The afternoon route will start at Charles Walkups at 1:30, proceed to N. J. Wilkerson's and end at Gale Van Slyke's at about 3. The first two stops will be on fescue and the last on orchard grass.

Senate passed and sent to House yesterday a bill to let a committee of legislators buy a site and build a new executive mansion for Missouri's next governor.

The old mansion would become an historical museum.

Two years ago the legislature appropriated funds for a new governor's residence but Gov. Phil M. Donnelly vetoed the item.

In a burst of speed the Senate passed 24 bills yesterday afternoon, including one to set aside parking space for the legislators and give capitol guards the power to arrest traffic violators. A bill to authorize construction of a state parking garage is languishing in the house.

Other bills sent to the House included measures to:

Let local officials, instead of the state veterinarian, handle rabies control.

Raise legal advertising rates about 50 per cent to three cents a word or 75 cents a square inch.

Give the Audrain County magistrate, and others who hold court in two places, seven cents a mile travel pay.

A Senate committee approved a bill to move primary election day from August to the second Tuesday of June.

Comedienne Sues

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Virginia O'Brien, deadpan singing comedienne of TV and night clubs, has sued video producer Kurt Allyn for divorce, alleging cruelty.

BLAZING TRAIN WRECK—A Missouri-Kansas-Texas diesel engine lies afire in creek bed near Columbia, Mo., after crashing through a burning trestle on the "Katy Line" branch between Columbia and McBaine, Mo. The diesel engine, a caboose and one freight car of the all-freight car train were destroyed, but only one member of the five-man crew was injured, and he was only scratched. The engineer said he rounded a blind curve to see the trestle afire ahead—too late to stop. Damage was expected to run close to $100,000. (AP Wirephoto)

Four-Division Conference Called—

Chamber Board Has Discussion On Municipal Auditorium Need

The need for a municipal auditorium for Sedalia was brought to the attention of the members of the Chamber of Commerce board at the regular meeting of that group Tuesday afternoon by Jack Shoemaker, director of the recreation and education division.

Shoemaker had no definite plan of how this building might be secured but he said that he felt that it is a project on which the board and people of Sedalia should be working. A discussion on such a building followed and the suggestion was made that not only that division but several others of the Chamber of Commerce should be vitally interested in the project.

K. U. Love, president, asked that a meeting of the recreation and education division, tourist and conventions division, of which W. E. Bingaman is director, and the civic activities division, of which Del Heckart is director, be held jointly.

Merle Vaughan, director of the farm marketing division, offered the assistance of his division, also, because there are many times when the people in agriculture need a place to meet.

The four divisions plan to have a meeting to discuss what might be done in the interest of a municipal auditorium and to write for information and visit municipal auditoriums in other cities of this size, that they may have some idea of how to further their plans.

Mrs. Marjorie Garansson, director of the membership division reported seven new members during the month of March and two renewals. The new members are IBM, Mid-Continent Oil, Phil Costello, Universal Construction Co., East Side Lumber Co., D. L. Brown Insurance and Andy's Tavern.

The renewals are J. W. Watts Insurance Agency and Gla-Da-Mo Shop. Mrs. Garansson stated that there had been 34 new members and six renewals since the first of the year. She also told of the contest being held by members of the renewal committee, with the winner to receive a Kar-Pillow from Reinhart-Welch Sales Co.

Merle Vaughan offered the suggestion that had been made to him that Dairy Day which was planned for September this year be moved up to June, which is National Dairy Month. The advantages and disadvantages of the change were discussed with no definite decision made at the meeting.

A report was made by Henry Salveter, director of the state and national affairs division, that plans are underway for sponsoring the parade this year for the Missouri State Fair, and that the Missouri State Fair committee under his division was now working on this project.

Clinton Muller, director of the public relations division, announced that brochures on Sedalia, telling of the points of interest here, were being compiled and would soon be available at the Chamber of Commerce office and for mailing out. (Please turn to page 4, Column 1)

Snow Strands Many Drivers In the West

CLAYTON, N. M. (AP)—Snow carried on brisk winds was piled on highways up to eight feet deep here today, isolating the town and stranding hundreds of motorists.

The spring blizzard extended from Wyoming to Nebraska and south into the Texas Panhandle, where Dalhart, Tex., also was reported cut off from highway communications. Skies cleared over the area today and "snowpools" churned toward the isolated towns.

A Greyhound bus with 15 passengers and two drivers aboard was dug out of eight-foot drifts this morning after one of the drivers, H. D. Prater of Amarillo, Tex., staggered into a filling station at Capulin, N. M., to report the situation.

The bus was trapped by the drifts last night. All passengers were removed by 5:45 a.m. and were en route to Raton, N. M., this morning.

County Court Submits Bid On Fire Truck

The County Court has entered a bid for a 1943 Ford model fire truck without apparatus at the Sedalia Air Force Base.

The truck has a pumper and weighs one and a half tons, with six tires 700 by 20, and cost $7,938.38 when new. The base allowed only visual inspection.

The bid list states that the truck is in "repairable condition."

State Senate Acts Against Dog Poisoners

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Missouri Senate passed and sent to the House today a bill aiming legal weapons at dog poisoners.

The measure, by Sen. Noel Cox (R) of Spokane, adds dogs to the list of domestic animals in the law under which poisoners may be prosecuted.

The State Supreme Court ruled recently the present law is not broad enough to permit prosecution of dog poisoners because dogs 2343 not specifically listed in the old law as domestic animals along with cattle, horses and so on.

A controversial measure to let the city of St. Louis condemn residential property for off-street parking facilities also was sent to the House, 21-9. It would let the city use parking meter receipts to pay off the bonds issued to finance parking facilities.

A bill developed by a special joint committee on education was passed also as the Senate hacked away at its loaded calendar. It would require, for the first time, that six director school districts have an audit made of their funds every two years.

Bankruptcy Referees Salaries, Expenses Increased Without Elaborating on Them

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee said today the coming fiscal year may see the "highest number of bankruptcies recorded in the history of the country."

It made the observation, without elaboration, in sending to the House a $450,393,227 appropriations bill to finance the State Department, the Justice Department, the federal judiciary and the U.S. Information Agency for the book-keeping year starting July 1.

During the current fiscal year, the committee said, approximately 65,000 bankruptcy cases will be filed, with an increase to 75,000 expected next year.

Publisher May Be Tried Over Blast at Joe

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Herman M. (Hank) Greenspun, publisher of the Las Vegas Sun, faces trial today on a federal charge of mailing copies of his newspaper containing an article allegedly tending to incite the murder of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Greenspun, pleading innocent, has suggested the indictment was politically inspired.

His chief attorney Edward P. Morgan, of Washington, D.C., says the constitutional rights of freedom of the press and speech are involved.

"This is the first time in history," Morgan contended, "that a newspaper publisher has been indicted for a simple expression of opinion."

Greenspun's article said "the chances are that McCarthy will eventually be laid to rest at the hands of some poor innocent slob" who would "get a gun and blast Joe to Hades." The indictment says 874 copies of the paper in which it appeared were mailed Jan. 8, 1954.

Greenspun said the column also expressed the hope this fate would not befall McCarthy. "I've said a lot worse things about him," he said.

The publisher and the senator have long been political opponents, although Greenspun says he is a registered Republican. The publisher has a one-million-dollar damage suit pending against McCarthy in the Nevada state court, contending the senator falsely accused him of being an ex-Communist.

If convicted, Greenspun is liable to $5,000 fine or five years imprisonment, or both.

Ends 51 Years of Service—

J. G. Hanson, Sr., Leaves Work In Favor of Enjoying Outdoors

Fifty-one consecutive years of service with the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad ended April 1 when J. G. Hanson, Sr., retired from his position as conductor in favor of fishing, hunting and gardening around his attractive home at 1602 West 13th.

Hanson is a Missourian by birth and has worked most of his life in this state. He was born in a little coal mining community which, he says, no longer exists today. Shafter disappeared when the miners deserted the mines for better veins around nearby towns in Randolph County.

Hanson estimates the population at 500 when his family packed up and moved to Richmond, Mo. There he became a blacksmith's helper until one day when he took a notion to be a railroad man.

He has just turned 19 when this urge struck him, so he had to falsify his age to 21 in order to be hired. Hanson says the company did not catch up with this bit of trickery until he reached 63 (when the company thought he was 65, requiring him to take an annual physical examination).

The railroad sent Hanson first to Franklin in September, 1903, and later to Sedalia in March, 1904, as a brakeman. In 1910, he was promoted to conductor and held that position until his retirement this year.

During those intervening years, Hanson says he traveled every foot of MKT railroad track north of Muskogee, Okla., except the El Dorado branch—14 miles of track between Nevada and Walker, Mo.

Thinking back over the events of these years, he regards himself lucky in that he was aboard only three trains involved in wrecks, and of these none resulted in passenger injuries. Of the passengers Hanson remarked, "It would be hard to recall any unusual passenger because so many seem unusual it is hard to keep track of them."

From March to December, 1915, Hanson was given permission to work the oilfield run in Oklahoma where the famous Drumwright field had just been brought in. Prospectors had hit two gushers which flowed so fast all available equipment had to be rushed by rail.

Hanson estimates there were 62 crews working on 100 miles of track around the oilfield. At the end of this time he returned to Sedalia.

In 1907, Hanson married Flossie Maggard O'Brien and from this marriage they have a son, J. G. Hanson, Jr., living at home, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Black, Louisville, Ky.

When asked how he and his family felt about his retirement, Hanson replied he was perfectly satisfied with his new routine. "I enjoy it—don't hardly hear a train," he said. Hanson said his wife wanted him to retire long before he did.

When it comes to fishing, Hanson prefers casting and fly fishing at Gravois Beach on the Lake of the Ozarks, at Fairfield or on the farm of Star Page on Flat Creek. He and his "fishin' buddy," Dr. F. O. Murphy, like to fish for croppie, bass and channel catfish. They hunt squirrels and quail on farms belonging to friends of the two men and duck hunting usually takes place on Flat Creek or down at the Lake of the Ozarks.

Gardening is the other hobby Hanson intends to use his time for. Landscaping is already well underway around the attractive bungalow, including 21 shrubbery pieces, Madonna lilies and peonies on the east side and geraniums in a large stone window ledge in the front of the house.

Hanson still has a big project ahead in setting out a large rose garden in the back yard and seeding the rest of the lawn. This, he figures, ought to keep him busy for quite some time.

NEW OCCUPATION—The sight of his new brilliant red geranium in a stone window box in front of the bungalow bring a smile to the face of J. G. Hanson, Sr., recently retired conductor on the MKT line. Hanson plans to spend his time fishing, hunting and gardening.

'Panicky' Woman Admits Dragging Body Behind Car

NORWICH, Conn. (AP)—A Superior Court judge has fined a woman who dragged the body of a man over seven miles of road on the end of her car and threw it into a lake.

Mrs. Annie Sadd, 50, of Williamantic, said she did it in a state of panic after the man dropped dead in her summer home Feb. 17.

Judge Samuel J. Melitz fined her $1,000 and imposed a three-month suspended sentence yesterday. She pleaded guilty to charges of failure to notify the medical examiner of a sudden death, and unlawful removal of a dead body.

Mrs. Sadd told the court Harry Stroberg, 59-year-old building contractor whom she backed in several business transactions, died of a heart attack in her East Lyme summer home.

She panicked when she saw him dead, she said, and dragged the body out of the house. She tied it to the rear bumper of her car and towed it over seven miles of lonely roads to a small lake.

The body was found the next day at the end of a bloody trail that led to the lake.

Mrs. Sadd's lawyer said she was "a very highly respected citizen of Williamantic" and that she disposed of the body "because she had become panic stricken."

Alert Citizens Catch

PRINCETON, Ind. (AP)—A young man robbed the Hauptstadt State Bank of $10,261. During the holdup an employee slipped out and initiated an alert at the telephone exchange next door. Armed citizens gathered quickly and captured the robber, identified as Marshall Nolan, Nevada, Mo., three blocks from the bank.

Toastmasters Elect Painter As President At Weekly Meeting

The Toastmasters Club held its weekly meeting and dinner Friday evening at the Bothwell Hotel. Norbert Thompkins was toastmaster for the evening. During the dinner each member was called upon to give a two minute talk on a subject given him by the table topics master, Ernie Payne.

After the dinner, an election of officers was held. Lester Painter was elected president; Gene Austin, vice-president; Ray Rodick, secretary-treasurer, and Aubrey Owen, sergeant-at-arms.

The main speakers of the evening were David Eisenstein, who talked on "Humor" and Ray Rodick, whose subject was "How to Solve a Problem."

J. W. VanderEnt was a guest. The next meeting will be held April 15 at the Bothwell Hotel.

In much of New England, daylight saving time was extended through October instead of ending in September during 1954 and the practice is spreading to other localities.

Davis said, that she met these men by inserting an ad in a newspaper advertising for work as a housekeeper. She would obtain employment in this manner and then would marry her employer.

Mrs. Arvenetis has waived preliminary hearing to a charge of bigamy and has been bound over to Howell County Circuit Court.

Publisher May Be Tried Over Blast at Joe

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Herman M. (Hank) Greenspun, publisher of the Las Vegas Sun, faces trial today on a federal charge of mailing copies of his newspaper containing an article allegedly tending to incite the murder of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Greenspun, pleading innocent, has suggested the indictment was politically inspired.

His chief attorney Edward P. Morgan, of Washington, D.C., says the constitutional rights of freedom of the press and speech are involved.

"This is the first time in history," Morgan contended, "that a newspaper publisher has been indicted for a simple expression of opinion."

Greenspun's article said "the chances are that McCarthy will eventually be laid to rest at the hands of some poor innocent slob" who would "get a gun and blast Joe to Hades." The indictment says 874 copies of the paper in which it appeared were mailed Jan. 8, 1954.

Greenspun said the column also expressed the hope this fate would not befall McCarthy. "I've said a lot worse things about him," he said.

The publisher and the senator have long been political opponents, although Greenspun says he is a registered Republican. The publisher has a one-million-dollar damage suit pending against McCarthy in the Nevada state court, contending the senator falsely accused him of being an ex-Communist.

If convicted, Greenspun is liable to $5,000 fine or five years imprisonment, or both.

Ends 51 Years of Service—

J. G. Hanson, Sr., Leaves Work In Favor of Enjoying Outdoors

Fifty-one consecutive years of service with the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad ended April 1 when J. G. Hanson, Sr., retired from his position as conductor in favor of fishing, hunting and gardening around his attractive home at 1602 West 13th.

Hanson is a Missourian by birth and has worked most of his life in this state. He was born in a little coal mining community which, he says, no longer exists today. Shafton disappeared when the miners deserted the mines for better veins around nearby towns in Randolph County.

Hanson estimates the population at 500 when his family packed up and moved to Richmond, Mo. There he became a blacksmith's helper until one day when he took a notion to be a railroad man.

He has just turned 19 when this urge struck him, so he had to falsify his age to 21 in order to be hired. Hanson says the company did not catch up with this bit of trickery until he reached 63 (when the company thought he was 65, requiring him to take an annual physical examination).

The railroad sent Hanson first to Franklin in September, 1903, and later to Sedalia in March, 1904, as a brakeman. In 1910, he was promoted to conductor and held that position until his retirement this year.

During those intervening years, Hanson says he traveled every foot of MKT railroad track north of Muskogee, Okla., except the El Dorado branch—14 miles of track between Nevada and Walker, Mo.

Thinking back over the events of these years, he regards himself lucky in that he was aboard only three trains involved in wrecks, and of these none resulted in passenger injuries. Of the passengers Hanson remarked, "It would be hard to recall any unusual passengers because so many seem unusual it is hard to keep track of them."

From March to December, 1915, Hanson was given permission to work the oilfield run in Oklahoma where the famous Drumwright field had just been brought in. Prospectors had hit two gushers which flowed so fast all available equipment had to be rushed by rail.

Hanson estimates there were 62 crews working on 100 miles of track around the oilfield. At the end of this time he returned to Sedalia.

In 1907, Hanson married Flossie Maggard O'Brien and from this marriage they have a son, J. G. Hanson, Jr., living at home, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Black, Louisville, Ky.

When asked how he and his family felt about his retirement, Hanson replied he was perfectly satisfied with his new routine. "I enjoy it—don't hardly hear a train," he said. Hanson said his wife wanted him to retire long before he did.

When it comes to fishing, Hanson prefers casting and fly fishing at Gravois Beach on the Lake of the Ozarks, at Fairfield or on the farm of Star Page on Flat Creek.

He and his "fishin' buddy," Dr. F. O. Murphy, like to fish for croppie, bass and channel catfish. They hunt squirrels and quail on farms belonging to friends of the two men and duck hunting usually takes place on Flat Creek or down at the Lake of the Ozarks.

Marian Coble Becomes Bride Easter Sunday

Miss Marian Coble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Coble, Windsor, became the bride of Mr. Jerry Robert Whitehead, son of Mrs. Hazel Whitehead of Ardmore, Okla., Easter Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Windsor Methodist Church, Rev. E. F. Dillon, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony before the church altar which was decorated with an arch of blue and pink daisies, lighted tapers and baskets of gladioli, stocks and calla lilies.

Mrs. J. O. Fetters played a program of wedding music and Miss Sandra Miller sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of nylon tulle and alencon lace over taffeta styled with a molded bodice fastened with tiny buttons. The sleeves were long and tapered to points over the wrist. Reembroidered alencon lace was woven into the sleeve and highlighted the portrait neckline and bodice. The wide skirt swept into a chapel train. A finger-tip illusion veil cascaded from a coronation crown of pearls and rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of white tube roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Robert Hull, Kansas City, was matron of honor. She wore a floor length ice blue gown of taffeta, fashioned with a fitted bodice with a bouffant skirt. Miss Janet Chipman, Wichita, Kan., was maid of honor. She wore a gown identical to that of the matron of honor. Her headresses matched their gowns and they carried blue and white daisies encircled with white net.

Master Jimmy Nelson lighted the tapers.

Little Marsha Anne Nelson and Susan Wilson were flower girls. Their dresses were pink nylon lace over taffeta hoop skirts. Each wore a halo of pink daisies and carried a basket of pink rose petals.

Mr. Rudy White, Ardmore, Okla., acted as best man and Mr. Howard Johnson, McAllester, Okla., Mr. Robert Hull, Kansas City, Mr. Max Coble, brother of the bride, served as ushers.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a mauve pink two-piece dress of imported silk with black accessories. Her corsage was white gardenias. The groom's mother wore a sheath style petal pink dress of Italian Pasente silk accented with mauve chiffon. Her accessories were of the same color.

A reception was held in the dining hall of the church following the ceremony. Those assisting at the reception were: Mrs. Raymond Smart, Independence; Mrs. Johnnie Murrell, Sedalia; Mrs. Hale Marti, Sr., and Mrs. Walter Chipman, Windsor.

Miss Marilyn Courtney and Miss Sue Coit were in charge of the guest book and Miss Jacqueline Coit had charge of the gifts.

For traveling the bride chose a cocoa linen dress with a beige duster and beige accessories. Her corsage was talisman roses.

The couple will be at home in Ada, Okla., where they are attending East Central State College.

The bride attended Drury College, Springfield, before entering college in Oklahoma.

The bridegroom is resuming his studies at Ada following 28 months in the Air Force during which he served in the Far East. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge at McAllester, Okla., and is majoring in social studies at East Central State.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Hazel Whitehead, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy White, Mr. and Mrs. Horace White, Ardmore, Okla.; Miss Gladys Coble, McAllester, Okla.; Miss Janet Chipman, Wichita, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Low, Mount Vernon; Miss Pat Harlan, Gary Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. David Lee Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hull, Kansas City; Miss Jacqueline Coit, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Smart, Independence; Mrs. Johnnie Murrell and Anne Sedalia; Mrs. Nancy Leonard, Mrs. Oliver Rundle, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baker, Warrensburg; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Twyman, Knob Noster; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Baker, Leeton.

Arranges Market
For Graded Eggs
In Pettis County

Plans were presented last night to a group of poultry producers for a graded egg market at Sedalia. A nationally known feed company, General Mills, is working up the outlet or market. They will put the eggs in their own cartons and guarantee the quality. They expect to get Kansas City prices at Sedalia for the producers.

Local folks, who must provide facilities for receiving and grading eggs, need to know whether they can get enough volume to operate profitably. They figure they will need a minimum of 30,000 hens. Eggs will be graded according to USDA grades.

A total of 10,500 hens were tentatively consigned last night. Folks who are interested in taking care of their eggs and participating in this market are asked to report to the county extension office or to one of the marketing committee. Those members are John Knaus (Sedalia phone 5174-R2), James Thompson at the Bagby Hatchery (Sedalia phone 975) and Claude Finley, LaMonte.

It was suggested that anyone who produced two cases or more of eggs a week could profitably participate. A deadline of Tuesday night, April 26, has been set to locate the 30,000 hens. Further information can be obtained from the committee or from the county extension agents.

Chamber

He also offered to make a directory in which would be listed all civic clubs and other organizations with the names of their presidents, the churches and pastors and various information.

Muller told of the 13-week radio program of national and local Chamber of Commerce activities to be presented on KSIS.

Del Heckart, director of the civic activities division, told of the work that was being done by his division on the Paint-Up, Clean-Up, Fix-Up campaign in cooperation with the city during the week of April 25-30. This division will meet Tuesday of next week to complete its city-wide plans.

An announcement of the DAV dinner on April 25 was made and the board voted to give a gift for the outstanding woman of the year, selected by the people of the community and whose identity will be announced that night.

Jack Faber, executive manager, announced that Boys' Town at St. James will have open house on May 7 and that an invitation had been sent for Sedalians to attend.

The board voted to send Jack Faber to the annual meeting of the National Chamber of Commerce which will be held May 2-4.

The board decided that this year be set for Thursday, Nov. 10.

Jack Shoemaker announced that the recent B-E day was again a success with more than 40 business firms participating, 160 teachers attending and 232 persons attending the luncheon.

Those present at the board meeting were Carleton Kelley, A. W. Smith, Clinton Muller, Jack Shoemaker, Marjorie Garansson, Del Heckart, Merle Vaughan, and Henry Slavator, directors; K. U. Love, president, Vernon Rodick, second vice-president; Mrs. Ike L. Warren, treasurer, and Jack Faber, executive manager.

OBITUARIES

Jesse L. Ellison

Jesse L. Ellison, 44, died at 3:45 a.m. Wednesday at Research Hospital, Kansas City, where he had been a patient since Saturday, having been taken there from the Bothwell Hospital. His home was at 210 1/2 East Second. His illness dates back several weeks. Death was attributed to a brain abscess.

Mr. Ellison, a salesman for the Dixie Kitchens, was born Dec. 26, 1910, at Clifton City son of the late Thomas R. and Segies Robertson Ellison, his mother, 2310 East Broadway, as do: his wife, the former Miss Ilene Smith, to whom he was married April 4, 1936; a son, James Lee Ellison, of the home; a step-daughter, Mrs. John Herbst, 110 West Tenth; two brothers, Ernest Ellison, Rocky Comfort, Mo., and Durward Ellison, Iowa City, Ia.; and a grandson, John Michael Herbst.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church and was a veteran of World War II, having served in the Navy.

The body was brought to the Gillespie Funeral Home, where funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Friday.

Mrs. Luther H. Kieffer

Mrs. Luther H. Kieffer, whose husband was born and grew to manhood in Cole Camp, a sister-in-law of Mrs. C. T. Parks, that city, died at a nursing home, Kansas City, Saturday after a long illness.

She was born at Pipestone, Minn., and had been a Kansas City resident about 40 years. She and her husband formerly operated a drug store on Prospect Avenue, Kansas City.

Survivors besides her husband include her father, Leon Gilson, Kansas City.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Newcomer Chapel, Kansas City, with burial in Forest Hills Cemetery there.

Emmett Knighton

Emmett Knighton of Fulton, Ky., brother of Mrs. H. H. Deal, 646 East Tenth, died Tuesday evening following a long illness.

Mrs. Deal left today for Kentucky to attend the funeral.

Governments Hurry
To Get Polio Vaccine
After Salk's Success

LONDON (AP)—Spurred by American success with the Salk vaccine, governments from Africa's southern tip to Canada's arctic reaches made plans today to shift their antipolio campaign into high gear.

In Rome even the extreme left-wing press outlet itself with praise of the American accomplishment. "The magnificent conquest," the pro-Communist Il Paese headlined.

Canada's 10 provinces planned with federal government help to inoculate possibly a million children, most of them free of charge.

But some West European experts warned that the vaccine that worked in the United States might not also be effective across the Atlantic. Scientists in Britain, France and Sweden said they were pushing ahead on development of vaccines of their own.

A spokesman for the British Medical Research Council explained: "Viruses of the disease differ in various parts of the world, and the vaccines to combat them must naturally differ too."

Two Suspects

and shouted to them to stop, the man on the fence seemed to spread out like a swan dive and landed a straddle of the barbed wire fence. Both men gave themselves up.

In the meantime Sheriff White and Trooper Glenn Means had been called from Warsaw to Cole Camp. The two officers were in Cole Camp and did not know of the chase at the time until farmers in the neighborhood notified the Sedalia police and Trooper Earl Gregory was sent to the scene.

Weymouth had the two men held at pistol point.

The officers were then notified through the State Patrol radio the men had been apprehended. Then, through the radio between Means and Gregory, it was decided to take the two men back to the Cole Camp Junction, where they were turned over to Sheriff White.

Both men denied any connection with the breaking into the W. K. Garage or the Home Lumber Co. a short time before. They were questioned for several hours and then held for further investigation.

A technician from the State Patrol at Jefferson City went to Cole Camp to try and find fingerprints of the person or persons who entered the two places.

Nothing was found in the demolished Mercury car which would lead to any connections to the break-ins.

Billy Bishop Given Plaque As Outstanding Sportsman for 1954-55 by Optimist Club

Billy Bishop was awarded the plaque for outstanding sportsman-ship Tuesday noon by the Sedalia Optimist Club at the meeting of that organization honoring the team in the basketball tournament sponsored by the Optimist Club which ended recently. Bill is a member of the Sedalia Democrat-Capital team, and during the 1954-55 season displayed a wonderful spirit at all times, winning for him this coveted award.

The presentation of this award was made by William J. Mateja, who stated that two other boys came very close to Billy's high standards and they, too, were presented with awards, gold basketballs. They were Melvin Brown of Phillips 66 team and Donnie Reed, Optimist team.

Wallace McCown, coach of the Optimist Basketball team, winners of the tournament, made a short talk and introduced the members of the team presenting each with a gold basketball. Members of the Optimist team were Tommy Austin, Bobby Jones, Bobby Stratton, Ronnie Turner, Jimmy Bredwell, Bill Reed, Jim Mateja and Joe Coffee.

A trophy was presented the captain of the Optimist team, Bobby Jones, as first place winner. Trophies were also presented to Melvin Brown for the Phillips 66 team, second place winners and to Billy Bishop, Democrat-Capital, third place winners.

McGown stated that the basketball tournament sponsored each year by the Optimist Club was a very worthwhile project and that from these teams were coming the outstanding players on the Smith-Cotton basketball team. He said that he was teaching the fundamentals of the game but it was the boys themselves who made the winning team. It is rough to try to beat a team like the Phillips 66 team and from all of these teams were coming boys who would go into high school teams. If the Optimist Club continues to promote this project, he told the club members you will see some of the finest basketball teams anywhere in Sedalia.

Virgil Herrick, Phillips 66 sponsor, was introduced and told the Optimist Club members that his team feels indebted to their club for providing such an opportunity for organized play. He stated he felt members of the Optimist Club should get behind the tournament each year and give it the support that it should have.

Paul Mines and Floyd Kerns, coaches of the Sedalia Democrat Club, were introduced and Mines then introduced the two boys who gave their time faithfully in refereeing the games, Bob Morgan and Jim Satterwhite.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. K. L. Holdren, president, with invocation by the Rev. Robert Rhinehart. Singing was led by Charles Hanna with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

Bob Austin, a former member of the club, was introduced as a guest.

Walter H. Bohling
Again Commissioner
Of State High Court

Walter H. Bohling, a former prosecuting attorney of Pettis County, in recent years a commissioner of the Missouri Supreme Court, has been reappointed to a four-year term on that body. The new term began Tuesday, April 12.

Others receiving appointments were Alden A. Stockard, Lawrence Holman, Cullen Coil, Paul W. Barrett and Paul Van Osdel.

Commissioners are paid $17,500 a year, the same as judges except they do not vote on decisions.

Mrs. Nall Will Head
Cancer Fund Drive
In Sweet Springs

Mrs. V. B. Nall has been selected as the general chairman of the Cancer Fund Drive in Sweet Springs which will start next Tuesday with the ringing of the church bell.

To work with her Mrs. Nall has Mrs. E. C. O'Neal and Mrs. Charles Worley Sr.

Those who will call at the homes for contributions will be Mrs. Walter Spearing, Mrs. Joe Scott, Mrs. Ray Wallhausen, Mrs. Lloyd Noel, Mrs. Charles Scott and Mrs. Harold Meyer.

Davis Homer Clinches
Tiger Win Over Tulsa

TULSA, (AP)—Jack Davis, Missouri first baseman, smacked a grand slam home run in the eighth yesterday as the Tigers notched a 10-4 baseball victory over Tulsa.

Davis got two other safeties as the Tigers unleashed a 14-hit attack while holding Tulsa to six hits. Buddy Cox also homered for Missouri in the ninth.

It was the Tigers' second victory in as many days over Tulsa. They won Monday 12-2.

State President
Will Install New
Jaycee Officers

John F. Renick, Kansas City, president of the Missouri Junior Chamber of Commerce, will install the new officers of the Sedalia Jaycees at a banquet Thursday evening in the Pacific Room of the Pacific Cafe.

Prof. Byron B. Banta, dean of men at Missouri Valley College, Marshall, and associate professor in American history, will be the guest speaker, discussing humorous anecdotes and figures of speech that sprang out of the Civil War.

Toastmaster of the evening will be Scott Webber. Several selections will be sung by Larry Owen, accompanied by Judy Case on the piano.

The usual large turn-out for the dinner and installation ceremony is expected.

Assuming their offices will be Jack Delph, president; Bob Ward, first vice-president; Carl Yates, second vice-president; Peter Potter, secretary; and Jim Askren, treasurer.

The program will begin at 7 p.m. with the serving of dinner.

Highway Commission
Will Open Road Bids;
Estimated $4 Million

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The State Highway Commission announced today it will open bids April 29 on an estimated $4 million worth of road improvements covering 213.7 miles.

The work includes 40.1 miles on major highways at a cost of $2 1/4 million and 173.6 miles on supplementary routes estimated at $1 3/4 million.

One of the biggest projects calls for 18.8 miles of widening U.S. 50 to 24 feet in Osage County and resurfacing from Loose Creek east to the Gasconade County line.

The new Missouri River bridge at Jefferson City figures in two other projects—one to remove the old bridge, the other to install a mercury vapor lighting system on the new span.

British Author Guest
Of Air Base Officers

John Merrott, noted British author, lecturer and commentator, will be the guest speaker Thursday evening at the regular monthly meeting of the Central Missouri Chapter of the Reserve Officers Association. The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. in the Officers Club at Sedalia Air Force Base.

Dress for the ladies will be informal and officers will wear appropriate military or civilian clothing.

Rita Hayworth Given
Studio Suspension
For Failure to Work

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Rita Hayworth has been suspended by her studio because she failed to report for work on a new picture.

Columbia Pictures announced the suspension yesterday, and asserted that under her contract she cannot work elsewhere until she makes two films for Columbia.

The warfare between the actress and the studio broke out last Thursday. She notified Columbia that she was not reporting for work on "Joseph and His Brethren," scheduled to start shooting Monday. Her lawyers then filed suit in federal court to end her contract, contending that postponement of the picture's starting date had nullified the agreement.

Saigon Has Quiet Night,
No Battle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Saigon had a quiet and uneventful night last night despite predictions by the Binh Xuyen society that the government planned to attack its private army.

The attack, if it really had been planned, didn't take place. But most of the city's population was kept indoors by the Binh Xuyen communique saying Premier Ngo Dinh Diem was planning to launch an assault within a few hours. The society promised bloodshed and fiery destruction would follow any military outbreak.

The society, an organization of reformed river pirates at odds with the Premier, said the truce between it and the government had expired

Newsman Plan Appeal After Conviction

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Six newspapermen and a free-lance photographer who were convicted of contempt yesterday for defying a ban on taking pictures in a courthouse will test the ban through an appeal to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

Attorneys for the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette and the Greensburg Tribune Review said yesterday that they would file without delay an appeal from the contempt finding by the Westmoreland County Court judges.

The two newspapers took pictures in the Westmoreland County Courthouse corridors of John Wesley Wable after he was convicted there last Dec. 28 of two slayings on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

An order of the court issued on the eve of Wable's trial forbade taking pictures of prisoners anywhere in the courthouse or the adjoining jail.

The newspapers claimed the ban violated the Pennsylvania and U.S. Constitutions, pertaining to freedom of the press.

Block, Bernhard and Mack were each fined $500 and sentenced to five days in the county jail. The others were fined $100 each and also received five-day jail terms. The sentences were stayed pending the appeal.

Congress Is Victim Of Texas Onion Bit Used for Publicity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress may have a new air about it as it reconvenes from its Easter recess.

"New, tender and sweet Texas onions"—20,000 pounds of "em"—will be parceled out to returning House and Senate members tomorrow. There will be some too for government officials.

Rep. Kilgore (D-Tex.) said the "season's first and best onions . . . will be distributed by wives of Texas members, gaily costumed . . ."

Austin Anson, executive secretary of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers Assn., acknowledged the distribution is a promotion stunt and he told reporters:

"If we can get the nation's capital Texas - onion conscious, the word and maybe the perfume will spread out over the whole land."

Tallulah Has Upset

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Actress Tallulah Bankhead suffered a gastric upset and collapsed in her dressing room last night after the first act of the play "Dear Charles." The show was canceled. Theater Manager Paul Beisman said he was hopeful Miss Bankhead would be well enough to appear tonight.

Finally Get Married

TANGIER (AP)—Film actress Corinne Calvet and actor Jeff Stone, balked recently when they tried to get married in Portugal, succeeded yesterday in the U.S. legation here.

In Lisbon, Miss Calvet's visa was not in order and they were refused a Portuguese license.

The French-born actress was divorced from actor John Bromfield last year. She and Stone are making television adventure films here.

Locks In 100th Year

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—Navigation opened for the 100th year yesterday at the Soo locks as the freighter Enders M. Voorhees slipped through the north-bound lock headed for Lake Superior. A brass band played and church bells chimed.

Greek Children Held by Reds Given Intense 'Schooling'

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
KASTORIA, Greece, April 12 (AP)—"Perhaps we would like some caramels," said the Romanian Communist teacher.

The Greek children, sitting on a blanket in the courtyard of a school in Bucharest, chorused eager assent.

"All right," said the teacher. "Why don't you try praying to God for your caramels?"

Under her direction, the children prayed to God. Nothing happened.

"Now," said the teacher, "we shall pray to Lenin for caramels."

The children did as they were told. As if by magic, caramels showered on them from the windows of the school.

That was the beginning of Communist indoctrination for this group of children, newly abducted from their homeland during the Greek civil war of 1948. They were selected for special pampering. One day they might have a Red mission in their homeland.

Adult repatriates newly arrived in this northern Greek town tell about it with fierce anger.

In all, possibly 50,000 persons either were driven or fled voluntarily across the borders in the civil war. Of these, about 28,000 by official Greek estimate were children. In virtually all cases, children were separated from parents and placed in special schools for training. Some were chosen for specialized indoctrination. Others got harsh treatment.

Athena Koranis, now 17, was one who did not get the special treatment. She arrived back in her native Greece last December and still lives in one of two abandoned schoolhouses in Kastoria. As many as 15 or 20 repatriates may be housed in a single schoolroom, sleeping in shifts.

Her eyes blazing, Athena said she was taken first to Albania, then to Romania, where the Communists placed her in a school set aside for certain of the Greek children.

"I remember when Stalin died," she recalled bitterly. "All the children in my class were lined up and ordered to cry."

"Did they teach the children to watch one another and report on one another?" I asked through an interpreter.

The girl jumped up excitedly. "Oh, yes! They did! They did! They did!"

She went on pouring out the story of how children were taught to ridicule any of their number who shirked or believed in God. The children were told America was a place of slaves, where the workers were beaten and tortured. They were told if they went back to Greece they would be beaten and tortured by the "Monarcho-Fascists in the pay of the Americans."

But harsh treatment was the exception rather than the rule.

As the children learned to use modern tools and work at modern jobs, they were subjected to endless "political enlightenment" tied in with the idea that only in a Communist country could they hope to achieve a full life. In many cases, this indoctrination was effective.

If used gradually back into the Greek body politic, even a small number of indoctrinated and convinced repatriates could represent an internal threat. Many Greek officials are seriously concerned.

Steps are already being taken to counteract the Red propaganda among the young. The Queen's Schools, operated under auspices of the Queen's Fund, are available for the task. But of the 1,300 children thus far returned, only 280 are enrolled. They cannot be forced into the schools, because of a condition that the repatriates must be returned to the areas of their origin.

Thus far, houses have been built for 330 repatriated families. Plans are under way to build homes for 550 more, in Epirus and the Kastoria area, the regions hardest hit by the civil war exodus. Credits are to be extended these families to buy agricultural materials and implements.

But there are big personal problems involved. Many of those repatriated to date are alone, without their families. Some families are only partly reunited. Many have had a long taste of city life abroad and resent being sent back to live in villages.

Greeks are still pondering the Communist crime and its implications. Why were the Greek children kidnapped in the first place?

Two explanations are offered: The Communists may have wanted hostages for blackmail purposes in the future. Or they may have been thinking in terms of preparing a future guerrilla fifth column. Greeks recall the words of the Old Bolsheviks of Russia: "Give us a child of 10 and we will make of him such a Communist that nothing on earth will change."

Former Slave Makes Future Plans at 113

AUBURNDALE, Fla. (AP)—Charlie Smith, fruit picker who may be 113 years old, is beginning to make plans for his future.

Smith, a Negro, took out a social security card recently and started working toward a pension. He was told he could apply for benefits after working 18 months under social security.

The African-born Smith says he is 108 years old but Mrs. Hickie Willis, Auburndale city clerk, has in her files an affidavit that would make him 113.

He was brought to this country in a slave ship as a boy.

Star, Wife Have Talk With Judge Over Reconciling

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A four-hour conference with a Superior Court judge left actor Edmund Purdom and his blonde wife Tita without a reconciliation.

The Purdoms separated last November and he filed suit for divorce in January charging mental cruelty. It was delayed automatically when Mrs. Purdom, former London dancer, applied for a reconciliation.

She emerged tearfully from Superior Judge Louis H. Burke's chambers yesterday after the lengthy discussions. She had nothing to say. The British-born Purdom spoke for both of them.

"When people separate, there are problems. Divorce doesn't necessarily solve these problems. What we are trying to do is get at the problems, and solve them, whether there is a divorce or not."

The Purdoms have two children. Another session was set with Judge Burke in two weeks. Purdom said, "The judge is accomplishing something."

Reporters asked him about the reports that a romance between him and Linda Christian caused the breakup. "The problems are from within, not without, as has been suggested," he said.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Hubbard, Versailles, Cecelia Allison spent the weekend with her uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wear, Florence.

Mrs. B. C. O'Rourke, Tipton, visited Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Keevil.

Priest Cannot Reveal Name of Bank Thief In Colorado Robbery

DENVER (AP)—A Roman Catholic priest refused today to disclose the name of a repentant bank robber who confessed to him the hold-up of the Colorado State Bank here.

Yesterday, the priest returned to authorities $6,850 in bills he said was part of $7,780 taken in the daylight robbery of the Colorado State Bank Feb. 17. He said the robber gave him the money.

U.S. Atty Donald E. Kelley quoted the priest as saying: "My lips are sealed. I have a sacred obligation by which I must abide even if it means my life."

Kelley said the priest "asked that he not be named and I respect that confidence."

Kelley said the priest promised to relay a message that partial return of the money would not absolve the robber of "criminal responsibility."

"I hope now that he will decide to clear his conscience entirely, by coming to the proper authorities," said Kelley.

Why pay up to $500 more for a car smaller than Plymouth?
Don't be fooled by the claims of so-called medium-price cars that they cost practically the same as Plymouth. When you compare price tags you'll find that, model for model, Plymouth sells for much, much less than medium-price cars, and gives you more car for your money!

Certain Ideas About Plugs On Television

By SAUL PETT
NEW YORK (AP)—Some irreverent thoughts about certain television commercials (quotes are approximate):

1. When are the child labor law people going to get after that little girl who keeps pulling out all those convertible couches? She's made enough beds to accommodate a regiment.
2. Picture of chain and then: "Don't be chained by the hot cigarette habit. Throat hot? Throat dry? Smoke —. Smoke —." Ears ringing? Eyes bouncing? Stomach jumping? Turn off your TV set.
3. Listen doc, what is K-28 for good teeth and formula 9 for good hair grooming? and is it U-235 that breaks the laxative habit?
4. Camera shows construction worker hanging from girder eating his lunch 84 stories above the street. Then a shot of a secretary munching a sandwich next to her typewriter. Then a family out for Sunday dinner. Then: "Americans are such busy people they don't have time to brush their teeth after every meal. Who does—the Arabs? The Italians? The lazy slobs of Upper Slobovia?"
5. If one beer claims "less non-fermented sugar" and another beer says, "All beer has the same amount of calories," who's on first?
6. Maybe you can persuade me that one detergent is capable of performing absolute grade-A miracles, but you'll never convince me any wife will sit casually by and smile while her husband, the big idiot, wears his best clothes to work on the car motor and gets grease all over his freshly laundered shirt. Never!

Comedy Writers Miss TV Shows If Locked Up

NEW YORK (AP)—It's hilarious, simply hilarious, being a television comedy writer.

Just a few days ago the two writers of the Martha Raye Show, were sitting in their triple cell, high up in a Manhattan tower. They had been locked up together for more than two weeks. But now they were too stunned even to detect each other.

Said Ed Simmons to Norman Lear:

"If only we spent all our time watching television, we wouldn't have time to write stuff that gets us into trouble."

Lear nodded numbly.

They had just been shattered. With rehearsals about to begin, with sets and costumes well along in production, with only a few score hours to actual performance, they had just finished, after two weeks of work, a script satirizing Jackie Gleason. And then someone gave them the word: Both Milton Berle and Red Skelton had done the same thing recently.

"I think we ought to hire some invalid or shut-in to do nothing but watch TV for us," said Simmons.

ELKIN, N.C. (AP)—Policeman S. M. Bullin, testifying in Recorder's Court, was asked whether the defendant was drunk when arrested. "No," the officer replied, "he was highly intoxicated."
The court wanted to know the difference.
"A man is highly intoxicated when he's staggering," Bullin explained. "When he's down on the ground, he's drunk."

Opera Singers In Harmony With Well-Knit Marriage

MOTHER GOOSE ARIAS—Opera singers Jerome Hines and his wife, Lucia Evangelista, make it a musical threesome at home with their 1-year-old son, David Jerome.

By JOY MILLER
AP Newsfeatures Writer

There is always harmony in the Jerome Hines household: Mamma and Papa are opera singers, and little David Jerome is a chirp off the old block.

"He was a year old on Valentine's Day, and already he is singing," says his pretty, petite mother, Lucia Evangelista of New York City Center. "I mean, he follows me with the same pitch."

Hines, young Metropolitan Opera Co. basso, nods. "When he's old enough to sing bass he can have it."

"We don't have a babysitting problem like some couples," explains Miss Evangelista, who would rather be called Mrs. Hines. "Both our mothers are at home with us."

"I don't understand all the fuss about mothers-in-law," says her husband. "We all get along fine. And Lucia and I haven't had an argument in our nearly three years of marriage."

"He's too big. I know I'll lose before I start, so why start?"

"How could I fight with HER?"

Hines, 6 foot 6½, looks like a man asking how you could beat a soft, cuddly kitten. "But seriously, it's a big help having two opera singers in the family. We understand each other better because we have the same problems. And since we can't sing the same roles—nature having made her a soprano and me a basso, thank heavens—there's no jealousy."

"I depend on her professionally too. I come off the stage and ask her how I did. If she wrinkles her nose, I know what she means."

Mrs. Hines laughs and relates how her husband got started singing. It seems he was asked to drop out of glee club in his Hollywood.

Tot Swipes Car Keys To Visit Grandmother But Has Some Trouble

NEW YORK (AP)—While an astonished policeman held the door, 8-year-old Frank Biondo slid from behind the steering wheel of his father's car and announced that driving was no problem at all.

"Why, it was simple," he said, calmly overlooking the fact that he had bumped two cars and passed six red lights during his drive through Brooklyn.

The boy told policeman Albert Leone he was just driving over to see his grandmother. He said he had taken the car keys from his mother's coat pocket. He learned to drive by watching his parents, he said.

He was charged with juvenile delinquency and released in the custody of his mother for a hearing May 17.

Preparing For Civil Defense...

While thousands of Sedalians slept the night through undisturbed, a tornado ripped through the Missouri State Fair grounds at 1:30 on an August morning of 1952. One man was killed and a million dollars in damage done.

Had the tornado swept across the heart of town there would have been catastrophic disruption of civilian activities. And no doubt many persons on the fringe areas might have slept through a more disastrous storm just as those in the neighborhood of the fairgrounds did.

What would Sedalians do if they woke up some morning to learn an atomic bomb had been dropped on Kansas City, and that already there were 42,000 evacuees from the metropolitan urban and suburban area moving out Highway 40 and down Highway 65 into Sedalia?

Under plans of the Missouri Civil Defense Agency that is a part of the evacuation programming if there is a nuclear weapon attack. A graphic map has been prepared by the agency to classify the movement of evacuees. From Kansas City 73,000 would start moving east on Highway 40. Higginsville would take 5,000. At Marshall Junction the remaining 68,000 would separate, 26,000 persons moving into the Marshall area; 42,000 heading into Sedalia and Green Ridge area; 32,000 would be left behind here and 10,000 others would go as far south as Warsaw on Highway 65.

Coming out Highway 50 from Kansas City would be 55,000 evacuees, 25,000 of whom would drop off in the Warrensburg area; 30,000 moving south on Clinton and as far as Lowry City.

Dispersal westward from the St. Louis area over Highway 50 would provide for 125,000 persons; 10,000 of whom would come as far as Tipton; 15,000 into the Bunceton area stemming out from California, others heading toward Versailles.

This sounds rather fantastic to contemplate, yet planning for civil defense in an atomic age is quite different than the apathetic fire warden days of World War II when many of us remember the difficulty of stirring up interest over a German or Japanese bomb attack.

Marvin W. Smith, State Director of Civil Defense, is stressing the importance of evacuating our larger cities in Missouri. There should be state-wide familiarity with different egress routes from the two critical target areas—Kansas City and St. Louis—and the number of evacuees that will pass along these routes, as well as the major food, shelter and sanitation problems that will confront out-state towns like Sedalia. The evacuation map vividly portrays the magnitude of the problem that would face nearly all counties and cities in the state since their population would at a minimum be doubled in the event of an evacuation.

Of necessity Central Missourians, in fact all citizens of the state, must become more than casually interested in the state civil defense program. A community that wakes up some morning without preparation for relief of their fellow citizens from the metropolitan area would simply be overwhelmed and disorganized, which would be exactly what a foreign aggressor hopes for.

In the calmness of peace we should prepare for the exigencies of tornadic or atomic disturbances by nature or by man. The discipline of preparation would be good for us all.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Dulles Trembles As Congressman Beckons

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON — The firing of Ed Corsi as assistant to Secretary Dulles on immigration shows two significant straws-in-the-wind in Washington. They are:

Straw No. 1 — Tom Dewey, for two years the closest man to Ike, is no longer close. Dewey put his old campaign manager, Herb Brownell in the cabinet; his press relations man, Jim Hagerty, on the White House staff; another associate, Tom Stevens, on the White House staff; and a partner in his prospective law firm, John Harlan, on the supreme court.

But Ed Corsi, who was in Dewey's cabinet as industrial commissioner for ten years, got fired.

Straw No. 2 — Dulles is still letting congressmen dictate his foreign policy. He doesn't call the tune himself.

During Dulles' first two years in the State Department he listened attentively to the threats of Senator McCarthy. If McCarthy even whispered, Dulles bowed. McCarthy is hoarse today and few people are listening, but Dulles is still bowing to congressmen.

In Corsi's case it was Congressman Francis Walter, Democrat of Easton, Pa., with an indirect assist from Senator McCarthy's pal, Scott McLeod. To appease McCarthy, Dulles two years ago put McLeod in charge of security and immigration. Three months ago Corsi was appointed over McLeod's head. And it was a neat double-play — that got Corsi fired.

Corsi is no fly-by-night Republican. Coming to this country at the age of 10, he served as commissioner of immigration under Herbert Hoover, ran as GOP candidate for mayor of New York, is one of New York's leading citizens. He does not deserve to be sacrificed.

Much more important than Corsi, however, is the principle — the Dulles policy of bowing to congressmen. Every time a congressman crooks a little finger, Dulles puts on an appeasement somersault.

Far more important than Corsi is the peace of the world. And what John Foster Dulles is doing is letting congressmen dominate foreign policy in such a way as to upset the peace of the world.

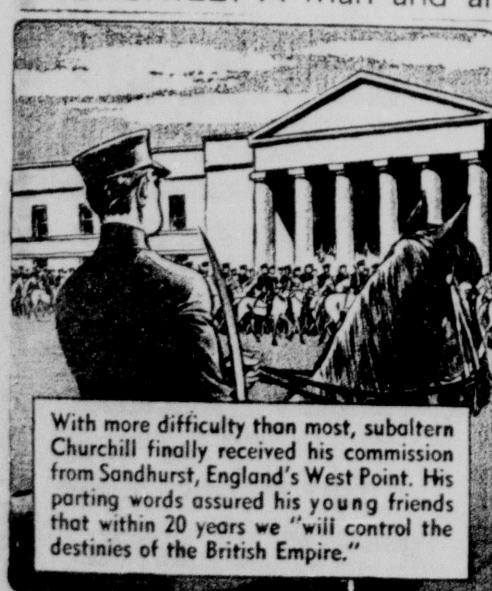

For when Anthony Eden proposed that England would guarantee us in Formosa if the U. S. would not guarantee Quemoy-Matsu, provided a plebiscite were held on Formosa, Dulles immediately ran up to Capitol Hill to ask Sen. William Knowland of California if he had any objections.

Dulles did not decide the Eden proposal on the basis of what was good for the American people and the peace of the world. He decided it on the basis of whether Senator Knowland would cause him trouble.

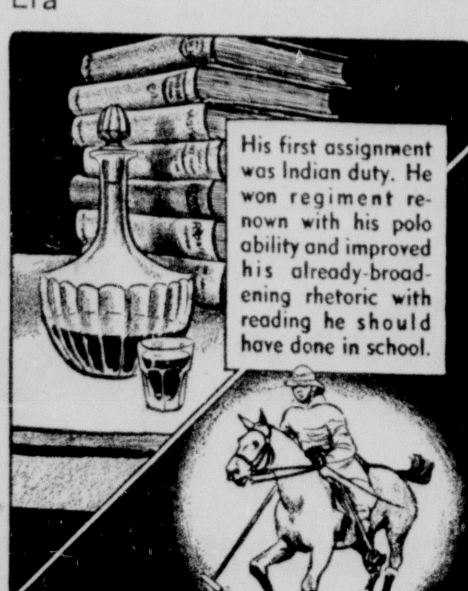

Senator Knowland did threaten trouble. He told Foster Dulles that if the British plebiscite idea was adopted, he, Knowland, would make a speech on the Senate floor denouncing it. He knew, as everyone in the Far East knows, that Formosans hate Chiang Kai-shek, that his executives shot 60,000 of them in one of the most bloody massacres since the war; and that any plebiscite would go overwhelmingly against him.

So the Eden plan, aimed at getting the U. S. off

CHURCHILL: A Man and an Era

With more difficulty than most, subaltern Churchill finally received his commission from Sandhurst, England's West Point. His parting words assured his young friends that within 20 years he "will control the destinies of the British Empire."

His first assignment was Indian duty. He won recognition with his polo ability and improved his already broadening reading he should have done in school.

COUGHT'NT YOU TO GET OFF WINNIE NOW? NOT AT ALL. HE'D ONLY BEGIN TO ORATE AGAIN. AND THERE'D BE NO STOPPING HIM.

And then, finally, he took his first step into the stream of history. Part soldier, part news correspondent, he joined the Malakand Field Force to defeat an Indian uprising. To an order of "retreat," he answered, "Put it in writing."

As Sedalia Sees It—

White House, Pentagon Split On Red China Aims, Strength

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Democrat-Capital
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—There is a glaring difference between White House and Pentagon estimates of Red China's military capabilities and intentions.

Admiral Carney, at his celebrated "off the record dinner" with chosen reporters asserted the Red Chinese build-up was sufficient to enable them to attack the Matsu Islands by mid-April and Quemoy by mid-June.

White House press secretary Hagerty, at his celebrated "off the record dinner" with chosen reporters flatly contradicted Carney's "facts." On behalf of the President, Hagerty asserted the Chinese Reds have not massed enough strength to attack Matsu successfully by mid-April. President Eisenhower backed up Hagerty at the next White House press conference.

Carney, a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said the mid-April target date might appeal to Red China because the important Afro-Asian conference begins April 18 in Bandung, Indonesia. On the eve of important conferences in the past, Red China has always made a show of force.

Hagerty said the Reds would be unlikely to launch their attack just before the conference, apparently on the theory that they would prefer to attend it with clean hands.

And that illustrates another glaring divergence between estimates of the White House and Pentagon. What is the explanation?

There is only one that fits the facts. President Eisenhower hopes to avoid war. Admiral Carney wants to force a showdown with Red China. Thus their interpretation of "facts" is somewhat conditioned by their immediate hopes.

It is assumed that Carney prefers peace, but considers that state unattainable until Red China is checked.

If this explanation is correct, then Carney's secret session with reporters was more than a high level seminar on the Formosa crisis. It was an effort to mobilize editorial opinion against the President's Far Eastern policy. It was a thinly disguised attempt to chivy the President into following a more bellicose line toward Red China.

It is accepted as fact here that Carney's briefing session was approved, if not suggested, by his boss, Admiral Radford.

Radford, the chairman of the Joint Chiefs, favors a tough China policy. He once said American security demanded the destruction of Red China's military potential even if that involved 50 years of undeclared war.

Influential Republicans, among them Senator Knowland of California, accepts Radford's thesis at least partially. Knowland, the Republican leader in the Senate, frequently is at odds with the White House on Far Eastern policy.

So it's hardly surprising that the White House attempted to counter Carney's effort. It is a bit surprising that the White House didn't crack down harder.

The substance of Carney's remarks at the secret dinner also supports the theory that he was attempting to mobilize support for a big show-down with China over the off-shore islands of Matsu and Quemoy, which are now held by Chiang Kai Shek's Nationalists.

"It's stupid for us to do less than stand up," Carney said at one point. The situation had passed the point, he said, where "political considerations" should influence our decisions.

Carney has since testified that he did not "predict" an attack on Matsu in mid-April. His denial is correct only in that he did not use the word predict. An unofficial transcript shows that he used the words "believe" and "expect."

"So I believe they will go for the off-shore islands ... I don't believe the all-out attack on Quemoy will come so soon ..."

Certainly Carney convinced those present that he expected a Communist attack on Matsu in mid-April. And he then discussed the military course we should follow.

Unrestricted warfare was his solution. We should not confine ourselves to tactical objectives, but should go out to win.

And what did he mean by winning the war? Destruction of Red China's military potential with nu-

DEATH OF A LEGEND

By WILL HENRY

THE STORY: When the guerrilla bands operated along the Kansas-Missouri border during the Civil War, Jesse James tried vainly to join them. Success came at last when he accepted by "Bloody Bill" Anderson's raiders.

III
THE youthful soldier aboard the North Missouri train No. 66 was surely not 18. The freshness of his skin, its lack of beard, the tousle of his blond hair all bore clear witness to that. A Howard County boy, he wore the uniform of the Sixth Missouri Guards, and was not nearly so interested in the approaching stop as were his coach companions. He had, after all, seen Centralia many times.

But as the train slowed now, his blue eyes suddenly narrowed at the milling rank of horsemen blocking the station-house. He gasped aloud, his frightened glance fastening on the slender, gun-belted youth sidestepping the fine black horse along the depot platform. "It's Jesse James!"

Ten minutes after his startled cry, the boy was kneeling alongside the North Missouri tracks, facing the morning sun and his Maker. Flanking him were the other Union soldiers taken off the train at gunpoint by the rebellious guerrillas. Down the long line of kneeling prisoners Jesse, Frank, George Todd and Bloody Bill Anderson moved methodically. When the last of their guns had barked its heavy echo across the meadow beyond the tracks, the toll of Federal dead stood at 75—every last Union soldier found aboard the North Missouri train No. 66.

With the grisly execution done, the guerrillas gathered in an orderly column of fours and rode unhurriedly out of town. When the last of them was gone, the dazed citizens of Centralia gathered to stare at the soldier dead. Shortly, still moving in stunned silence, the townfolk produced mattocks, spades and shovels. Within the hour, the last of the pitiful windrow of trooper bodies was spaded under, buried without memory of name or rank in a common, open grave.

Five miles south of Centralia, riding ram-rod straight with Frank at the rear of the retreating guerrilla column, Jesse looked for Cole. Presently he saw him, jogging his bay, head down and alone, some distance ahead.

Cole glanced up as Jesse eased the black down to match the jog-trot of the bay. "And where were you when we lined up them bluebellies?" demanded the latter belligerently. "I didn't see no Younger lead being put to use."

Cole stared back at him, saw that he was blinking rapidly. Dings was really mad about it; he wasn't just horsing now.

SOMEWHERE in the back of his adventurous mind, Cole Younger had a line. As long as he followed Jesse, and he followed him to the last, he never stepped across it. He had known about that line since barefoot boyhood. He knew, now, that it would cut between him and Dings James until the last horse was shot out from under either one of them.

When the kneeling troopers had just now slumped into the gravel of the North Missouri's right-of-way, his gun had been cold in its holster. He had always accounted for his fair share along with the others, that was certain. But he had never shot a defenseless human being. And he had never killed a dog.

Up to Centralia the outlaw campaign had been a signal success. Now, the North was at last aroused. Blue patrols rode the back-country lanes around the clock. As usual, the guerrillas vanished. And, as usual, waited their chance to gather and strike again. The chance did not come. By the fall of 1864 the raiders were forced to the last resort—attaching themselves to some unit of the regular Confederate Army. The unit they chose was the Missouri Corps of General Sterling Price.

Jesse, second now only to Todd, Anderson and Quantrell in the guerrilla command, led his followers into Price's regiment late in September. Riding with the regular cavalry of fabled fellow-Missourians, Jo Shelby, he was in time to see George Todd killed leading a charge in the October raid on Independence. The following month he saw the bearded head of Bloody Bill Anderson speared upon a telegraph pole in Missouri City, where he fell in a raid designed to cover Price's retreat to the south.

THE guerrillas, following Shelby and Price in their desperate attempt to cut their way through to Texas, got only as far as White River, Ark. There Quantrell proposed to abandon the regulars and strike for Kentucky. Jesse flatly refused the defection. Quantrell departed with his followers that same evening. His brief ride into the land of the blue grass, with its swift oblivion under the guns of the Union guerrillas of Edward Terrill in Spencer County, Kentucky, is school-boy history in the Border States.

Frank had gone with Quantrell, and so had Jim Younger, Cole's dour older brother. Cole, himself, sickened by Centralia and evidencing the only documented loyalty to the South of any of the outlaw band, save for Frank's, bobbled a tour with Price's original command of State Guards, had enlisted in the regular Confederate Army and been transferred to Louisiana. Of the fading hierarchy of border irregulars, only Jesse and a hard core of Todd's and Anderson's faithful remained.

The guerrilla horsemen were galloping through Cana Hill, into the Cherokee Nation. The tiny frontier town was too empty. Too quiet. Too late, they realized that the wind lay behind them. What came with that wind, blowing suddenly upon their startled rears, was a long column of Jefferson's Fifteenth Kansas Cavalry.

THE World Today—

Arms vs. Medical Advances

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The world rejoices that there is a vaccine for polio, but—

One of man's oddities is that while he works overtime to make his life longer he also looks for ways to make it shorter.

While scientists struggled to find a weapon against polio, others were busy making bigger and better hydrogen explosives.

In the end millions of people whose lives now will be prolonged by the new vaccine may have them unduly shortened by the bomb.

A thousand years from now, if there are any humans left in those days and they have formed a way to end war, they may look back on these days and wonder:

"Why couldn't those 20th century people ever find a cure for the most dreaded disease of all: pushing. People were forever pushing for a cure for polio, or cancer or heart disease was only a pittance compared with what they spent on defending themselves from one another."

Jonas E. Salk, the young doctor who developed the polio vaccine, may prove over man's long history to have been worth more than a thousand armies.

But that's problematical. Man, kind without much trouble may make far more cripples in the next war than Salk ever dreamed of saving from polio paralysis.

When it was finished the little boy's face lighted up. That was just what he wanted. And so away he went with his new rifle to shoot all the Indians that were peeking from behind trees and bushes in the neighborhood. After all you just have to have the right kind of gun in order to shoot Indians, even if it is a wooden gun. —H. L.

clear weapons. Smash up their factories, supply dumps, airfields, communications, and so on. Reduce the land to rubble.

No, he did not envision military occupation of Red China, the Admiral said. Destroy their war making potential and "leave them to stew in their own juice."

And this hair raising doctrine, so savage that it is utterly unrealistic politically and therefore militarily, was not advocated as the only method by which the United States could prevent hostile forces from occupying territory essential to national security. For the Admiral said Quemoy and Matsu were of piffling importance in the military sense. Even if the off-shore islands are lost "it would still be hard for the Reds to take Formosa if morale stood up," he said.

It's the existence of the Communist regime in China that alarms the Admiral. And he seems to think that the sooner a show-down, the better. The real importance of the off-shore islands to some of our military is that they represent an issue which may accelerate the show-down.

By HAL BOYLE

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt is in transition, proud of its mighty past but anxious to cure its old poverty by turning to new ways.

Abraham Noman is as good a human symbol as any of the slow changes that are bringing fresh hope of better times for this ancient land.

Abraham is a 6-foot, 195-pound, 29-year-old bedouin, whose fierce ancestors once roamed the desert. Some bedouins, a proud and independent people, still roam the desert and live in tents. Others have compromised with civilization and come to town to live. Abraham is a town bedouin.

"My great grandfather was the last in our family to live in a tent," he said. "The desert bedouins have no education. They are ignorant."

Abraham Noman's family has done pretty well, all things considered, since coming to town. Abraham himself is a servant in famous Mena House, an old-fashioned sprawling hotel near the pyramids at Giza.

Most of those whose needs Abraham tends are tourists, and many of them have been famous. They often laugh and make jokes when they first see Abraham. He does look odd to them in his small skullcap and long nightgown garb—like a figure out of the Arabian Nights.

Abraham patiently smiles through their laughter. He probably thinks tourists look odd, too, but he is too polite and gentle to show it. He likes tourists because he can learn from them.

"I had but nine years of schooling," he said, "and whenever I hear a new word I like to find out what it means."

Abraham waited on a number of us who came here on a preview flight by Trans World Airlines of its new Super Constellation. He turned out to be about our best friend in Egypt. Sometimes you can learn as much about real life in a strange country from the guy who presses your pants as you can from one of its politicians.

All of us who jested among ourselves at Abraham on sight, came to admire him for his kindness, his dependability in doing his duty, his intelligence, and his complete sense of personal dignity.

Abraham Noman doesn't know where his last name comes from, but thinks it probably was facetiously given to one of his ancestors a few generations back by a British officer. In any case, he now likes it.

Here is Abraham's self-portrait in his own words: "My father and I lived the same. But my father lives better than his father did."

"There are nine of us in my family—my father and mother, my wife and myself, my one brother, our three children, and a servant. The servant is a boy of 12 who does the marketing. He is a poor boy without a family. We took him with us because he had no one to play with. We pay him a small amount each month."

"My father was a dragoman, an interpreter. I earn 120 pounds a year (about $344)."

"But we have bought a house with nine rooms. My father and mother come first in my life. They will until my last day. Without them I would never know life."

"In some homes the man does first what his wife says, before his father and his mother. I think that is bad."

"Yes, I am happy living in Egypt. It is my luck to be a servant. I cannot turn it back. I do not get angry working for others. When I feel sorry, I pray to the gods."

"But I want my children to be better than me."

"My children are all right. They are good. I hope they go to school for a long time and grow up to be judges or army officers. I would prefer them to be officers—but only if there are no more wars."

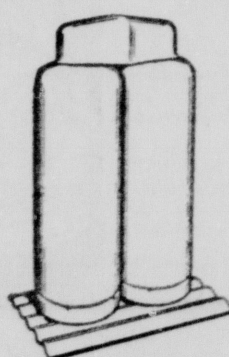

Abraham Noman said he thought life in Egypt was getting better for people in his position. When I asked him if he had a grudge against this world, he spread his big palms wide, smiled, and said: "I am content in myself. What now may I do for you?"

Franklin EQ 335 Screw Worm Remedy

Franklin EQ 335 Screw Worm Remedy is produced from the formula developed by the Department of Agriculture after considerable experimentation in the Texas area. This formula utilizes the qualities of Lindane for its action as a quick killing agent. In combination with pine oil Lindane is carried to all parts of the wound to exert its action. Pine oil is somewhat irritating to screw worms, causing them to wriggle from the wound to leave it clear for quicker healing. Pine oil has bacteriostatic values as well.

This smear offers definite advantages over other smears... It is cleaner to use, leaves a softer covering over the wound, thus aiding in more rapid healing.

Altogether it is the product of choice!

Olson, Maxim Fight Tonight Holds Futures

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The boxing future of both Carl (Bobo) Olson and Joey Maxim is at stake tonight in their scheduled 10-round bout before a near-capacity Cow Palace crowd and a national television audience.

The Olson world's middleweight championship is not on the block, stable is anxious to whip Maxim decisively and put himself into a position to challenge Archie Moore for the lightweight title.

The situation is even more crucial for the 33-year-old Maxim. A loss to the smaller Olson, and the former lightweight champion will be shunted to the sidelines as far as any future big money matches are concerned.

The word from Jack (Doc) Kearns, Maxim's manager, was that his tiger was in "the best shape of his life this morning."

"We'll have no excuses," said Kearns. He's ready to go and I think he can win."

The body-punching Olson, sharp as he has ever been, according to veteran observers here, has expressed more preflight confidence than for any previous match. He has made no secret of the fact he wants to meet Moore for the lightweight crown and admits, without much urging, that he would enjoy a crack at Rocky Marciano's heavyweight championship in the near future.

A crowd of 13,000 is expected, with the gross gate almost certain to reach $130,000 and perhaps higher according to promoter Bennie Ford.

The fight will go on television at 7 p.m., PST over CBS.

FIRST RUN BY KC ATHLETICS—Kansas City Athletics' outfielder Bill Wilson scores the first run in the Athletics' American League debut in Kansas City, Mo., in the second inning against the Detroit Tigers. A's Rip Tigers 6 to 2--

KC's Athletics Show New Spirit

KANSAS CITY (AP)—No one in this newest American League city could think of a way to improve on Kansas City's opening day 6-2 shellacking of the Detroit Tigers but the Athletics are going to try in a reopener today.

There was only one thing wrong with yesterday's inaugural from the time former President Harry Truman southpawed the first ball until old Ewell Blackwell made Red Wilson bloop a double play ball to ageless Pete Suder.

There wasn't enough room to let all the eager Kansas Citians see the affair.

So Truman is scheduled for the first pitch again today, ready to shoot with either hand that gets hold of the ball first.

Besides the ambidextrous Truman, the Athletics plan to pitch Arnold Portocarrero, a fireball righthander whose post game comment yesterday was:

"We didn't come to Kansas City from Philadelphia to lose."

Arrayed against him for the Tigers will be Steve Gromek whose record last year was 18 victories against 16 losses to Portocarrero's 9-18.

It is doubtful today's retake will draw the sellout 32,844 that watched the opener but no one would give big odds on it, not after the way this baseball crazy town took to their rejuvenated Athletics yesterday.

One baseball game doesn't make a summer. And one victory won't put the A's in the first division. But anyone who saw the A's during and after their auspicious start knows they have a new spirit if not new talents.

An astute student of the game, Manager Bucky Harris of the Tigers, is one who thinks the A's may be a lot more efficient than many think.

"They have some long ball hitters. They have the ability to make the runs and if they get the pitching they need, they could improve a lot," Bucky allows.

"New surroundings and a new spirit on the club is bound to help."

Bucky's youngsters (this starting lineup averaged 26 years yesterday; found the combination of a new club and some oldtime club members too much competition.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Mrs. Harry Truman doesn't think much of her husband's baseball pitching ability.

Shortly before the former president was scheduled to throw out the first ball in the Kansas City Athletics' opener against Detroit yesterday, Mrs. Truman was asked which hand her husband would use.

"I don't know," she replied, "and I don't believe he knows yet. He's not very good either way."

Baseball's Opening Winners May Have Set Season Pattern

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Could be that the opening day of major league baseball set what may be the pattern this season. Milwaukee and Cleveland were off and winning and the New York Giants, Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees couldn't do a thing about it.

The preseason popularity polls had Milwaukee's Braves copping the National League flag, with the world champion Giants and Brooks somewhere behind. Cleveland was picked to repeat in the American, again beating out the Yanks.

Milwaukee and Cleveland made hay yesterday while the other three pennant contenders were stopped by rain. The Braves uncovered rookie Chuck Tanner, who swatted a first-pitch pinch home run to get a 4-2 victory going against Cincinnati. And Cleveland, mixing power with its pitching, knocked off the Chicago White Sox, a dark horse threat, 5-1.

In the American, the Kansas City Athletics broke into their new surroundings with a 6-2 victory over Detroit, and the Boston Red Sox gave the Baltimore Orioles their second setback 7-1.

Tanner, a 25-year-old prospect from Atlanta, carried on the Braves' rookie-a-spring program. Manager Cholly Grimm, who sprung loose Billy Bruton in '53 and Hank Aaron in '54, tapped Tanner to bat for Warren Spahn with the Braves trailing 2-1 in the eighth. He homered on the first major league ball pitched to him.

Like Spahn, Cleveland's Bob Lemon got off toward another 20-victory season, handling the White Sox on four singles and a double. The Indians, apparently not as over-confident as general manager Hank Greenberg feared, got to Virgil Trucks for two runs in the first as Vic Wertz singled with the bases loaded.

Al Smith and Ralph Kiner homered, although Kiner, whose big bat the Indians picked up from the Cubs last winter, fanned in his first two trips.

The game at Cleveland hauled in 50,230 fans—tops for the day as the majors drew 190,951. Milwaukee was second with 43,640.

Kansas City relied on a three-run sixth to beat Ned Garver and the Tigers as a capacity crowd of 32,843, plus former President Truman and Connie Mack, watched. The A's got nine hits, including a single, double and home run by Bill Wilson. Alex Kellner gave up six Detroit hits, one a Red Wilson homer, and Ewell Blackwell protected the decision with two-hit ball in the last three frames.

The Cubs knocked out Brooks Lawrence in a five-run first and went on to total 18 hits off five Card hurlers. Dee Fondy drove in five runs with a bases-loaded double in the big first and a full-house single in a six-run second. Hank Sauer had four hits with 26-153 in the stands—largest Chicago opening crowd since 1929. Paul Minner was the winner.

Boston and new manager Pinky Higgins kicked up their heels as Ted Lepcio smacked two home runs in the rout of Baltimore. Frank Sullivan set down the Orioles on five hits, while Boston had 13 against three Baltimore pitchers. The crowd was 38,065.

Tennis Tourney Dates Cause Dispute Between East, West

NEW YORK (AP)—An innocuous-looking little note to members of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn. says merely that a special meeting has been called here next Tuesday to consider changing the dates of this year's National Championships at Forest Hills so that they will end Sept. 11 instead of Sept. 5.

What it leaves unsaid is that the polite sparring customary in tennis circles has ended and that the kicking and the gouging is about to break out. It could—and quite probably will—wind up in a hot-tempered break of relations between the East, where tennis began in this country, and the West, which has incubated most of the stars for many years.

If you missed the preliminaries, the present situation is, roughly, that the Western group, as the result of a sneak attack at the last annual meeting in January, has the game's Eastern rulers bleeding from every pore. At that meeting the Californians, by an unexpected show of proxy strength, rammed the Sept. 5 closing date down the throats of the struggling Easterners.

It means that, unless a change is made, the championships must begin the day after the Davis Cup

About 150 Sedalia Baseball Fans Attend Athletics Opener

Some 150 Sedalia baseball fans were rewarded for taking the day off Tuesday and traveling to the opening game of the Kansas City Athletics. They won, and how, 6 to 2.

It was estimated by the tickets disposed of through Harry Goldberg, who acted as chairman of the Sedalia Lions Club booster group, those obtained through John J. McGrath at the Sedalia Bank and Trust Co., those who have season tickets and others who had ordered tickets from Kansas City, and still others who drove up last week to get tickets, the local representation was over 150.

Goldberg had a chartered Missouri Pacific bus for the trip to the game, leaving here shortly after 11 a. m. and arriving in plenty of time for the ceremonies. They returned home immediately after the game arriving shortly before 8 o'clock.

It was a jovial group which rode the bus and not a dull moment was spent. The tickets were good and they saw a tailor made game which made the opening of Major League baseball in Kansas City as big a success as any sports event held there.

The transportation was no problem, plenty drove up taking their friends, others rode the Missouri Pacific trains as well as the special chartered bus.

Cockell Shows Respect For 'The Rock'

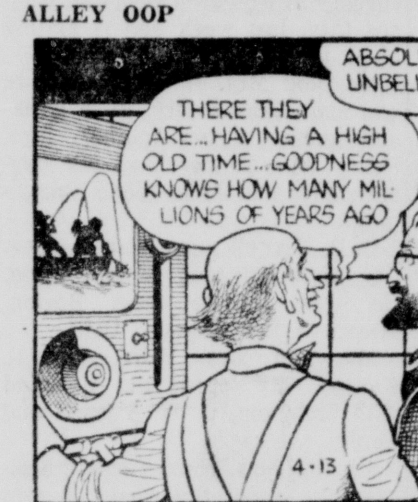

NEW YORK (AP)—"He's no superman. He's got two arms and two legs just like I have. I hope to win the title, otherwise I never would have come here."
That's the way England's Don Cockell sized up his coming title fight with heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano in San Francisco May 16.

The pudgy, 217-pound British heavyweight boss arrived early yesterday morning from England on the Queen Mary, was the guest of honor at press party at a downtown restaurant and then departed last night for San Francisco. He is due there Friday.
"Marciano is a great champion and he behaves like a champion," said the hog farmer from Hiram, Sussex. "If I should win, I only hope I can conduct myself like he does."
"Many people seem to have the idea that Marciano is crude and rough but I don't see it. He is a scientific fighter. He never throws two punches in the same place. He places his punches correctly and places his weight behind his blows."

Cockell had met—and admired Rocky when he met the undefeated Brockton Blaster at the signing ceremony here Feb. 25. He never has seen the hard-hitting heavy-weight king in a live fight but said he has carefully scanned the movies of Marciano's two fights with Ezzard Charles.

Ike to Meet Middlecoff For Match

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower looked forward to a practice round of golf today to tune up for a possible weekend match with Cary Middlecoff, the 1955 Masters Tournament champion.

Middlecoff, who won the Masters here Sunday, had left town by the time the President arrived yesterday for an eight-day work-and-play vacation.
But White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen there was a possibility Middlecoff might return to Augusta about Saturday to take on the chief executive.

Eisenhower got in 18 holes yesterday afternoon at the Augusta National Club, site of the Masters, even though he was bothered "quite a bit" by a right shoulder.

For the past six weeks or so the President has been going to Walter Reed Hospital in Washington for treatment of his shoulder.

The 15-minute stints at the hospital have helped, but Eisenhower got a setback Monday in tossing out the first baseball at the season opener between Washington and Baltimore.

The pitch, Sec. Hagerty said, wrenched his arm painfully. That was the reason Eisenhower used only his left hand in waving greetings yesterday to crowds in Augusta and Charleston, S.C.

On the plane trip from Washington, the President stopped in Charleston for a visit to the Citadel military college, which presented him with an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Besides more golf, Eisenhower planned some work today on the foreign aid message he will send to Congress next week. Hagerty said there had been no decision yet whether the message will go to the Capitol while the President still is in Georgia—through next Wednesday—or after he returns to Washington.

Auto Talks Settle Into Extended Grind Over Wage Guarantee
DETROIT (AP)—Auto industry negotiations over the guaranteed annual wage and other new contract issues settled today into a long grind expected to continue until an early June deadline.

The CIO United Auto Workers was scheduled to meet in separate afternoon sessions with General Motors and Ford. Negotiations with American Motors Co. also were due to start today over the same issues.

The GM talks were due to recess today until the middle of next week. The Ford conferences, which began yesterday, were expected to last all week.

The motor companies have uniformly refused to take any position for or against the UAW demand for year-around pay, but have stressed voluntary policies to promote regular employment.

Red China 'Too Smart'
MANILA (AP)—Maj. Gen. Robert Schow, U.S. Army deputy chief of intelligence, said last night he did not believe the Red Chinese would try to invade Formosa. "Red China has too much sense to try it," said Schow, who is on a tour of the Far East.

11-Year-Old Catcher Fails to Meet Team
PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—If 11-year-old Jed Young doesn't come home soon, he's going to lose his job as catcher on Pasadena's Little League baseball team.

Jed's father E. G. Young says the boy ran away Friday to escape punishment for an unauthorized charge account for candy at a grocery store.

"I didn't start worrying about him until he failed to show up for baseball practice," said the father. "He'll have to get back in a hurry to stay on the baseball team."

The motor companies have uniformly refused to take any position for or against the UAW demand for year-around pay, but have stressed voluntary policies to promote regular employment.

Red China 'Too Smart'
MANILA (AP)—Maj. Gen. Robert Schow, U.S. Army deputy chief of intelligence, said last night he did not believe the Red Chinese would try to invade Formosa. "Red China has too much sense to try it," said Schow, who is on a tour of the Far East.

11-Year-Old Catcher Fails to Meet Team
PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—If 11-year-old Jed Young doesn't come home soon, he's going to lose his job as catcher on Pasadena's Little League baseball team.

Jed's father E. G. Young says the boy ran away Friday to escape punishment for an unauthorized charge account for candy at a grocery store.

"I didn't start worrying about him until he failed to show up for baseball practice," said the father. "He'll have to get back in a hurry to stay on the baseball team."

Raschi Returns To Card Mound After Ailment

CHICAGO (AP)—Vic Raschi has won his battle with back miseries and soon will be ready for pitching assignments from Manager Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinals.

It was a little over a year ago that Raschi was cut loose by the New York Yankees in a sale to the Cardinals.

The big righthander, now 36, had won 120 games for the Yankees and lost only 50.

"We knew Raschi had a bad back when we got him," Stanky said before his Cardinals hurried out of Chicago yesterday. "He won eight for us last year and I look for him to win eight to 11 for us this time."

"He was entirely on his own," said Stanky. "He knows his arm and back better than I do. I just let him come around by himself. Last Saturday he had a good three innings against Detroit (yielded one hit and had four strikeouts). In three or four days we'll start using him."

Raschi says he is far from through. "My back is feeling much better," he said. "I'm a year older and I've played another year—and I hope to be of some help to the Cardinals for three more years anyway."

Connie Mack Kissed At A's KC Victory
KANSAS CITY (AP)—Connie Mack, the dignified former owner of the Athletics, got a hearty kiss from an excited young woman during the Athletics' sixth inning rally against Detroit yesterday.

Mrs. James Irvin invaded the box where the 92-year-old Mack was seated with former President Harry S. Truman. She hugged Mack and planted a kiss on his forehead, saying:

"Honey, we love you for helping bring the Athletics to Kansas City."
The startled Mack broke into a wide grin and laughed. "I'm so happy and excited I just had to do it," Mrs. Irvin said later.

B. Sullivan Carries Heavy Theater Load

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's lucky that Barry Sullivan isn't allergic to work. Because he's getting more than his share these days.

Sullivan spends his days at Columbia Studios in "Queen Bee." His nights are devoted to acting in "Caine Mutiny Court Martial" at the Huntington Hartford Theater in Hollywood. When does he find time to sleep? That's a good question.

The actor, looking none the worse for his grueling schedule, describes his current life during a brief rest on the movie set.

"The day starts at 6:30 in the morning," he related. "I have to be at the studio early because they must apply a scar to my face for this role. I work all day, then at 6 o'clock grab a steak at the Brown Derby. I live in Beverly Hills, but I can't spare the half hour it takes to drive home and back to Hollywood. Especially with the traffic at that hour."

"After dinner, I walk across the street to the theater and take a 45-minute nap. Then I go on and to the play."

"The show's over at 11:15, but I can't just rush home. People come backstage to chat. I thought that would be all over after opening night. But every night is like opening night. For instance, the other night there were Fred MacMurray, Bob Stack, Lenore Coffee, the writer, and several others. I thought everyone from Hollywood had seen the show in New York."

What with changing from his costume and greeting the well-wishers, Barry is lucky to get home by midnight. Then he must arise at 6:30 again.

"I've been thinking of taking a hotel room in Hollywood," he said.

Star-Spangled Auto
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Fred Marinelli, retired coal miner who came from Italy in 1903, has bought a $5,900 car decorated like the American flag — red and white stripes and a blue, star-spangled hood. The special paint job on the Lincoln cost him an extra $100. He explained: "I'm planning a trip back to Italy later this year. I'm going to take my car with me to show people of my old country how America treats immigrants."

Piper Laurie Denies Any Wedding Plans With G. David Schine

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Piper Laurie says that right now she isn't going to marry "him, or anyone else." The "him" is the Army's famous private first class — G. David Schine.

They were seen on dates together when Schine, now a military policeman at a fort at Anchorage, Alaska, was in Hollywood. Rumors set wedding bells prematurely a - tinkle yesterday when an unsigned marriage license for the pair, dated April 5, popped up in official files in Anchorage.

Schine, 26, had no comment. Miss Laurie who is 21, said through her studio: "David Schine and I have been friends for several years and have dated intermittently during that time. But right now I have no plans to marry him or anyone else. And I have never taken out marriage licenses."

Schine, center of the stormy Army-McCarthy hearings in 1954, has been a member of the Ft. Richardson military police detail in Alaska since last fall.

They're The Best...
Says Leonard Koehring

In my nearly three years with Mike O'Connor's I have never had so many fine used cars to offer our customers. These are BETTER USED CARS — for many of them are cars that have been completely reconditioned to give you thousands and thousands of trouble-free miles. And a big point in my favor as a salesman—the PRICES ARE LOW — They're honest-to-goodness down-to-earth prices.

I invite all my friends and anyone looking for the best in a Used Car to visit me at Mike O'Connor's Used Car Lot No. 2 at Third and Osage — or just phone me at 5900 and I'll be out to see you.
